

Aluminium Screen Tiny Insects

Aluminum Screen for Tiny Insects is a tightly woven metal wire mesh designed specifically to block out small nuisance insects like gnats, black flies, and no-see-ums, while still maintaining excellent outward visibility and superior airflow.

As the only aluminum screen developed with tiny insect protection in mind, it's the ideal choice for windows, doors, and screened porch areas in regions where small bugs are a persistent problem. Its fine weave and durable aluminum construction ensure long-lasting performance without compromising on view or ventilation.
